“Subtle Disguise is very much a happy continuation for me - a new chapter in my search to unite my love of composition with the connective qualities of melody and groove. Some of the pieces on this recording are a result of new things I’ve been exploring in my practicing, while others are more visceral in nature and grew from a simple melody or rhythm.

The title Subtle Disguise comes from one of the songs on the CD, which was inspired by a well known jazz composition, but is quite hidden here. It is also a metaphor for how so many of us interact with one another in the world today. We wear different masks for many reasons. Masks can be very beautiful, but disfiguring if they are worn permanently.” (JL)

TO BE RELEASED NOVEMBER 2018

Locke has claims to head the list.”
